

Careers in Building and Construction

Reach 532,000*
readers of The West Australian.

The West Australian
is WA's highest selling,
best read print media
and WA's No. 1 medium for employment*.

*Morgan Readership Survey 12 months to September 30, 2011 (Mon-Fri av).

Within this new feature, The West Australian will highlight the potential of the building and construction industry as a major employer, especially during times of skills shortages.

Careers in Building and Construction will provide information on the degrees, qualifications and skills needed for success in the industry including the trades, technical, engineering and surveying sectors and much more.

The feature will highlight university and TAFE courses, general training courses and apprenticeships available across regional and metropolitan WA.
